The current internet speed and reliability meet connectivity needs.

A website or App allows residents to effectively monitor air pollution.

Free public wifi has improved access to city services.

Online voting has increased participation.

Online public access to city finances has reduced corruption.

A website or App allows residents to easily give away unwanted items.

Processing identification Documents online has reduced waiting times.

Online purchasing of tickets to shows and museums has made it easier to attend.

Processing identification Documents online has reduced waiting times.

Online access to job listings has made it easier to find work.

Online voting has increased participation.

An online platform where residents can propose ideas has improved city life.

CCTV cameras has made residents feel safer.

Car-sharing Apps have reduced congestion.

Bicycle sharing has reduced congestion.

Online scheduling and ticket sales has made public transport easier to use.

The city provides information on traffic congestion through mobile phones.

Information on local government decisions are easily accessible.

Most children have access to a good school.

Lifelong learning opportunities are provided by local institutions.

Businesses are creating new jobs.

Minorities feel welcome.

Information on local government decisions are easily accessible.

Corruption of city officials is not an issue of concern.

Residents contribute to decision making of local government.

Residents provide feedback on local government projects.

From a list of 15 indicators, survey respondents were asked to select 5 that they perceived as the most urgent for their city. This is the total bar. The higher the percentage of responses per area, the greater the priority for the city.

The left hand section of each bar shows the Alignment - the proportion of those respondents who also answered the corresponding survey questions low. A strong Alignment implies that these areas also demand priority attention.

The proportion of your day-to-day payment transactions that are non-cash (% of transactions)

You feel the availability of online information has increased your trust in authorities

You are willing to concede personal data in order to improve traffic congestion

You are comfortable with face recognition technologies to lower crime

You are comfortable with face recognition technologies to lower crime

The proportion of your day-to-day payment transactions that are non-cash (% of transactions)